Bellevue, WA - The delegates of the 2005 Washington Young Republican Federation convention voted unanimously to endorse Nicolee Ambrose of Maryland and her team to be the officers of the Young Republican National Federation for the 2005-2007 term.

Incoming WYRF Chair Melissa Munzi said, "After meeting some of the national candidates at our state convention, and listening to their ideas for the next two years, I firmly believe that Team Ambrose is the right choice for the YRNF."

"I have known Nicolee for several years, and her hard work and dedication to the YRNF is outstanding. In running for chairman, she has built a team of talented individuals, including our own Patrick Peters, who get things done. I am very pleased to say that the membership of my state recognizes and endorses Nicolee's efforts, and stands behind her in rebuilding the YRNF," said WYRF Immediate Past Chair Eric Hartman

Patrick Peters, Team Ambrose Candidate for Auditor and former WYRF Chairman, noted, "The vote not only reflects our confidence in the high quality of the candidates that Team Ambrose has recruited, but also in the reform agenda for the National Federation that they want to implement; which the WYRF has strongly advocated." Peters concluded, "I want to thank the delegates for their vote of confidence in Team Ambrose."

Washington is the latest state to join the Team Ambrose bandwagon and will be out in force in Las Vegas to help insure Team Ambrose's victory.

Candidate for YRNF Chair, Nicolee Ambrose said, "Washington has a longstanding history of commitment to the YRNF. It is an honor to earn the WYRF's endorsement, as well of have one of Washington's very own, Patrick Peters, on our team to help rebuild the YRNF's financial house."
